ORGANIZATION WILL BE READY

When O. A. Charles Returns Next Wednesday, Canvassing Teams Will be Ready For Work.

SUCCESS SEEMS VERY CERTAIN

Several Men Consent to Act as Captains and Enthusiasm Over Undertaking Runs High.

Perfect organization for the carrying forward of the plans to perfect a Chamber of Commerce in Rushville will have been made by the time Owen A. Charles, the apostle of the country town, returns to Rushville next Wednesday to take up the campaign for a commercial body.

The campaign will be formally opened with a monster meeting next Wednesday night. The place has not yet been determined upon, but an effort will be made to find an auditorium which will accommodate the crowd. It is planned to have a musical program precede the lecture by Mr. Charles. Then will follow the thorough combing of the city for members of the proposed commercial body. The plan of Mr. Charles is to have ten teams of men composed of three or four each, to do the soliciting. Several men have already consented to act as captains, and the ten will hold a meeting some time tomorrow to formulate plans for the canvass.

The spirit with which the citizens of Rushville have entered into this scheme bespeaks for it success at the very outset. Men who never before took interest in Rushville's welfare have volunteered to do all they can to make the Chamber of Commerce a possibility.

Mr. Charles believes beyond any preadventure of a doubt that he can obtain here a membership of between two and three hundred at the very start and it is thought that a strong organization will attract other members. Mr. Charles was very much encouraged over the enthusiasm that was shown in the undertaking here and feels that nothing can stop it.

The executive committee which held an all afternoon session yesterday decided it would be the wisest course, instead of starting the campaign at once, to hold off a week so that a good organization could be perfected and everything in first-class condition when canvass started.

WILLIAM ADAMS EXPIRED

Son of Mr. and Mrs. James Adams Passed Away.

William Adams, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Adams, died this morning at the home of his parents in Buena Vista avenue. He had been ill only a few days suffering from croup. Last night he suddenly became worse and death was expected. He is survived by his parents and several brothers and sisters. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the residence and burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

Frank Wallace, the photographer, was paid in full by the insurance companies for his loss sustained in the fire of Sunday night. Mr. Wallace had two policies, one for $600 and the other for $300.

GETS INQUIRY IN FEW HOURS

George W. Thomas Sees Value of Want Ads in Selling Property.

George W. Thomas, who last night advertised a house and lot in Tenth street for sale, in the free want ad column, had an inquiry this morning before nine o'clock. "That's getting results," said Mr. Thomas. "It's not a sale, but it's going in the right direction." The ads continue to pour into the office each day. They are classified each day and it is necessary to read all to get the new ones.

MANY MEN WORK AT CHURCH CANVASS

St. Paul M. E. Church Aimed to Revive Membership by Calling On Everyone Today.

CLOSING MEETING TONIGHT

More than thirty men engaged in the every-member canvass conducted by the St. Paul M. E. church here today. The aim was to visit every member of the church both in the city and surrounding country to revive the membership. This afternoon the members who put in the day on the job felt that they were accomplishing results. Each worker made a report on the members visited. They will be indexed and a report of the day's work can be obtained. They all reported fine receptions in the homes.

More than a hundred people, including the canvassers, ate lunch at the church at noon. It was furnished by the Ladies Aid Society. After lunch, E. B. Thomas, who was in charge of the canvassers, gave a brief talk and the workers started out again. The day's program will close with a big meeting tonight. A general program will be given tonight.

AGED WOMAN DIES AT HOME OF SON

Mrs. Margaret Windeler Expires in Jersey City Following Long Illness From Cancer.

FUNERAL SATURDAY MORNING

Mrs. Margaret Windeler, 74 years old, died this morning at eight-fifteen o'clock at the home of her son, Frank Windeler, in Jersey City. Mrs. Windeler had been ill for a long time suffering from cancer although she had not been in a serious condition until the past week. Mrs. Windeler was well known and formerly resided in this city. During her last illness she was taken to the home of her son. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church, having united with that church when twelve years old.

Frank Windeler is the only child but she leaves one sister, Mrs. James B. Sloan, of Indianapolis and seven grand children. The funeral services will be conducted in the First Presbyterian church Saturday morning at ten o'clock, by the Rev. U. L. Montgomery of Kalamazoo Mich., assisted by the Rev. J. B. Meacham. The Rev. Mr. Montgomery is an old friend of the family. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

NO LONGER WILL GAS BE IN WATER

City Has Abandoned Well That Gave Water Peculiar Odor and Worse Taste.

MUCH COMPLAINT OF LATE

Pump Will be Placed Over Another Well and Other Changes Will Give About Same Supply.

No longer will the city water taste of gas and have a peculiar odor. The reason is that the well located near the Pinnell-Tompkins factory, which has been the cause of all the trouble, has been abandoned. The well was located near an old gas well and because the gas well was never properly plugged when abandoned the gas escaped and came over into the water well. So much complaint has been heard because the water tasted of gas and had a bad odor that it was decided to do away with the well.

The electric pump at the Tompkins well will be moved to a well in the rear of the Hiner livery stable in First street. This will give about half as much water as the one abandoned but the water is good. It was drilled two years ago when the council was trying to find water but was never connected with the city mains. Work was started today on making the change.

Other changes will also be made. The pump from the well in the Jones pasture over next to the river will be moved to the Crawley well in West Third street. The well by the river has given entirely out and the well is practically useless and it was not thought best to allow the valuable machinery to stand idle over a useless well. This well has not been in operation since the flood of last March and even before this time the supply of water was only about thirty gallon a minute.

The well in the Jones pasture out by the iron bridge on the Connersville pike was also started today. This well is fairly good but has not been in operation for some time. With the changes complete it is thought by the water and light committee and the superintendent of the plant, A. T. Mahin, that the supply will be even bettered and the old well giving the gas will be done away with.

The Crawley well in West Third street is now in operation but the pump is not as large as the one that will be placed there when the changes are complete. The water from the Tompkins well, which was filled with gas, was pronounced pure time and time again by the health board, but because of the taste and smell there were all kinds of kicks on the water and it was thought best not to force this on to the people since better water could be secured.

The former council tried several plans in an effort to stop the flow of gas into the water well but none proved successful and conclusion was reached that the old gas well could not be repaired so that the gas would not get into the water and for this reason the changes are being made.

The Shakespeare club will be entertained by Miss Lois Fritter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hargrove in West Seventh street next Monday night. The subject will be "Twelfth Night," and Miss Anna Bohnannon will be the leader.

W. P. Smith of Jackson township who has been seriously ill, was somewhat improved today.

SHOWS VALUE OF ORGANIZATION

O. A. Charles, Who Comes Next Week to Launch Campaign, Says Individuals Must Join.

TO GET COMMUNITY RESULTS

Co-Operation He Declares, is the Keynote to all Successful Town Development.

(By O. A. Charles.)

Presumably a man lives in a community because he is happier with his fellows than away from them. He ought not therefore to pursue a policy that if adopted by all would destroy the community. He must not be a community leech.

Communities prosper and grow in proportion to the concentration of effort, or in other words, communities prosper in proportion to the effectiveness of a central or community organization, not a centralization of power, but a concentration of effort, not a "grab-all game" as some carpers make pretense of believing but a unification of energies for work in concert along lines where interests are and of necessity must be identical.

The day has come when individual effort cannot accomplish results for communities. We have reached the time when concerted action or action through organization must be applied to produce successes.

You can call your community organization what you will, a Commercial Club, a Chamber of Commerce, a Civic Association, in fact the name does not matter. What does matter is that there must be a closely organized body that will take in all individuals as to accomplish the things the most desired by the community.

It has been well said that men and not resources produce results. No matter what the resources of a community may be, no matter how much wealth a community may have; how much industry, along manufacturing lines; how large is the extent of retail interests of the city or the professional interests, it does not matter how patriotic the individuals of the community may be, if the men of the community are not actuated by patriotic and sincere efforts to make the community prosperous the community will be a failure. Not only do men rather than resources make prosperity but men organized together is what accomplishes the wonderful results that we see accomplished in some of our cities today.

For example, take the city of Dayton, which has lately been swept by destructive flood when millions of dollars worth of property were destroyed, where hundreds of lives were lost and it was thought by some that Dayton was practically wiped off the map. What happened? Simply a matter of the men of the community getting together, organizing in one grand body that faced conditions as they were, each one putting his shoulder to the wheel under the direction of a board of capable directors and the result is that Dayton is making the greatest progress in its history.

There is no argument against concentration of effort. There may be arguments against concentration of wealth and industry, but when it comes to effort, all argument is in favor of close organization and careful concentration. Thirty percent speaking generally, of the country towns of eighteen of the Middle Western States, have lost in population during the last decade

TO INVESTIGATE STRIKE Would Indicate This.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Jan. 22.—A conference of the House Democrats called because of the application for an investigation of the Colorado and Calumet mine strikes indicated today that the House would tonight order a probe. Sherman Henry, chairman of the rules committee which has once voted against such action, said the committee would reverse its vote if the caucus desired.

FATE WILL NOT BE KNOWN YET

Submarine "A-7" Will Not Be Raised Before Tonight, Possibly Not By That Time.

MAY BE KEPT FROM PUBLIC

(By United Press.)

Plymouth, Eng., Jan. 22.—While not the slightest hope is felt that any of the eleven men buried in the submarine "A-7" will be alive, their fate will not be officially known until the rescued vessel is placed in a dry dock. When the work of raising her was begun today, the admiralty ordered no attempt to open her until she was safe away from the public gaze.

That the truth of that thrilling, hopeless fight for life under immeasurable tons of water will not be known for some time, or perhaps never, if the admiralty discovers anything that might better be kept from the public, was admitted today. It was expected to take at least all of today to raise the submarine.

MINISTER SAYS HE WILL NOT RESIGN

The Rev. C. A. Whitsitt of Connersville Says Statement Was Misunderstood by the Members.

MEANT CHURCH IN GENERAL

(By United Press.)

Connersville, Ind., Jan. 22.—"I have not resigned. My remarks were misunderstood by the membership. I was speaking of the church in general."

This was the terse reply of the Rev. C. A. Whitsitt, pastor of the Main Street M. E. church, to the newspaper stories printed today that he intended to send his resignation to the Rev. V. W. Tevis of Rushville, the superintendent of the district, following the receipt of the news that the trustees of the church would meet to take action against the minister.

It was alleged that he made his remarks in his sermon last Sunday night were personal when he said: "I am tired of preaching to a congregation of long-faced dilatory Christians. They are useless timber in the church. They look sick and I think all sick people should stay at home."

The Rev. V. W. Tevis said he knew nothing of the case except what he had read in dispatches. He said the Rev. Mr. Whitsitt did not attend the conference here last September, but was a local preacher who was hired afterwards.

HEARING ON BILL IS CALLED OFF

Fear of Involving United States With Japan Causes Summary Action in House Today.

THE ASIATIC EXCLUSION BILL

Secretary of State Bryan Reported to Have Requested the Hearing Be Not Held.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Jan. 22.—Fear of involving the United States with Japan today caused the House committee on immigration to call off indefinitely the hearing on the Asiatic exclusion bill.

Secretary of State Bryan was said to have requested that the hearing be not held. That there is no danger of any break in the friendly relations existing between this country and Japan was insisted upon in all official quarters.

A wrong interpretation, it was explained, had been placed on the latest utterances of the Japanese foreign minister. He stated that the negotiations on the California anti-alien land bill had failed and that Japan had to look to some other solution of the problems.

This is taken to mean that the negotiation of a new treaty is probable. Secretary Bryan favors a new treaty.

ONE MAN KILLED.

(By United Press.)

Fort Wayne, Ind., Jan. 22.—One unknown man was burned to death when the explosion of a lamp started a fire at a cheap lodging house here today and several lodgers were severely burned.

IS STILL VERY ILL.

The condition of Judge John D. Megee, who has been ill for the past few days at his home in North Harrison street, remains about the same and very little change is noted. He spent a very bad night. Judge Megee is suffering from a heavy cold and is threatened with pneumonia. This term of court will end Saturday as was planned by Judge Megee.

SULTZER TELLS NOTED INCIDENT

Deposed Governor of New York Details His Talk With Tammany Boss Murphy.

FRANK EXPRESSION OF LATTER

He Tells on Witness Stand of Circumstances Which Led up to Removal From Office.

New York, Jan. 22.—At Senator O'Gorman's house his secretary said that the senator had no statement to make at this time in regard to the testimony given by ex-Governor Sulzner before Magistrate McAdoo. Whether the senator will be subpoenaed as a witness, the senator's secretary did not know.

New York, Jan. 22.—Assemblyman William Sulzner, deposed governor of New York state, testified before Chief Magistrate McAdoo in the John Doe proceedings that United States Senator O'Gorman urged him to deny the request of Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, that James E. Gaffney be appointed commissioner of highways. He swore that in doing so the senator described Gaffney as Murphy's chief bagman and denounced him as the man who had attempted to obtain a contribution of $150,000 from James C. Stewart while the bids of the Stewart company on state work were pending before the canal board.

He declared that Senator O'Gorman told him Gaffney would have got away with the contribution had not he gone to Murphy and told him that if he did not call Gaffney off he would expose the Tammany leader. Sulzner averred that O'Gorman described Murphy as trying to sidestep his accusation, and said he could not because he told the Tammany leader that Gaffney would not go up against anybody unless Murphy told him to.

This talk, according to Sulzner, took place in Washington on March 3 of last year. It was on the following day, said Sulzner, that Murphy made his announcement that it was "Gaffney or war." That he described as the beginning of the fight with the Democratic organization which ended with his impeachment and removal from office. But it was before that Murphy, according to Sulzner, had given him the word that if he attempted to interfere with the "invisible government," his administration would be wrecked. This was made plain to him, said Mr. Sulzner, when he went to see Murphy after he had sent a telegram to the canal board holding up the rejection of the bid of the James Stewart company. He declared that after Murphy had berated him for interfering with the canal board's action the Tammany leader asked him if Senator O'Gorman had not put him up to sending the telegram. He said Murphy warned him not to do anything in the future unless he consulted him, and that if he did he would find his administration tumbling about his ears.

"That," testified the former governor, "was the first revelation I had of the workings of the 'invisible government.' And I said to Mr. Murphy, 'I want to tell you now that when I go to Albany I am going to be right and I am going to be governor, and the quicker you understand it the better.'"

"And what did Mr. Murphy say?" asked the district attorney.

"He said, 'Is that so? You'll wind up damn quick if you do.'"

"Did he say anything else?"

"When I said I was going to be the governor he said, 'Like hell you are.' I said to Mr. Murphy, 'The people have elected me governor and I intend to be the governor,' and Mr. Murphy looked at me and said, 'Well, you'll make a hell of a governor.'"

There was a roar of laughter as Mr. Sulzner solemnly repeated this conversation.

Parts of Sulzner's story had been told before in interviews; but this was his first opportunity to tell under oath of the circumstances that led to his removal from office. He went into it thoroughly, describing every detail. His memory slipped at times, but under the questions of Mr. Whitman he was brought back to the main theme, which was the disclosure of the identity of the man who tried to get $150,000 from James C. Stewart for campaign purposes when there was no campaign.

REFUSES DIVORCE DECREE

Judge Concludes Couple Had Agreement Not to Resist Order.

Judge Alonzo Blair of the Shelby circuit court yesterday refused a divorce to Raymond Leech, a well known young farmer of near St. Paul, from his wife, Mrs. Bertha Leech, after he had reached the conclusion that the man and his wife had reached an agreement outside of court that the issuance of the decree would not be resisted. Mr. Leech is a Purdue graduate. The case was filed in Decatur county and taken to Shelby county on a change of venue. John H. Kiplinger of this city represented the defendant.

READY TO PUSH REFORM ALONG

Congress Rolls up Sleeves and is Clearing Decks For Anti-Trust Legislation.

SEVERAL BILLS ARE IN HAND

Senator Newlands and Representative Clayton Will Take Charge of Measure.

Washington, Jan. 22.—The measures looking to supplemental statutes regulating operations of corporations as outlined in the recent address delivered to congress by President Wilson, will be embraced in a series of four or five bills that will be introduced in the house tomorrow. It already is apparent that congress will act expeditiously in the administration's anti-trust program in accordance with the wishes of President Wilson. Present indications are that the work of this session of congress will be limited to the anti-trust bills, a bill creating a system of rural credits, and the routine supply measures. It is the wish of the president and other party leaders that the session shall come to an end on or about June 1.

Work already has been begun by the appropriate house committee on the anti-trust bills. President Wilson has discussed the trust question with a number of callers at the White House. Senator Newlands of Nevada, who will handle the trust measures in the senate, conferred at length on the subject with the president. Last night the president had a long conference with Chairman Adamson and other members of the house interstate commerce committee. Mr. Adamson and his associates were upset by reports that, despite the action of the house, the president desired that all the anti-trust bills should be sent to the judiciary committee, of which Representative Clayton of Alabama is chairman. President Wilson made it clear to his visitors that he did not purpose to interfere with the work of congress in this regard.

The judiciary committee is willing to let the Adamson committee frame the trade commission bill, but Chairman Clayton thinks that all other features of the anti-trust program should be referred to his committee. There is likely to be a lively row over this question of jurisdiction, but the division of work is likely to be made as above indicated.

BRIEF WASHINGTON ITEMS

Several Matters of Interest to Indians Noted Down Here.

Washington, Jan. 22.—If the bill creating a vocational education commission becomes a law, it is understood here that John A. Lapp of Indianapolis, at the head of the Indiana reference bureau, will in all likelihood be made a member of the commission. Of the many applicants for the position he has the best endorsements. Governor Ralston and the Indiana senators are among those who favor his candidacy.

So far 4,422 banks, all chartered by the federal government, have made formal application for admission to the new federal reserve system. The national banks number at this time 7,500, so considerably more than one-half have made application. Practically all the national banks in Indiana have sent in their applications.

Edwin J. Gainer of Muncie, Ind., vice president of the National Association of Letter Carriers, will succeed to the presidency of that organization. William E. Kelly, the present president of the association, has been selected for the Brooklyn (N. Y.) postmastership, and will retire as the head of the letter carriers' association.

The chief of the division of military affairs in the war department, in its annual report, declares that the Indiana militiamen are poorly instructed in their armories.

Declares She Was Jilted.

Laporte, Ind., Jan. 22.—Miss Effie Williams of this city has filed suit in the Laporte circuit court against Frank Carson of Adams county, this state, asking for $10,000 for alleged breach of promise. She alleges that Carson, when living in Laporte, proposed marriage to her and she accepted him. She says he was slow about carrying out his promises and so she proposed to him, but he failed to marry her.

Left Pool of Blood Behind.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 22.—Henry Baldwin, proprietor of the Rushton hotel here, shot at a man in the rear of the hotel who was trying to break into the house. He believes the man was wounded, as a large pool of blood was found in the yard.

Boy Killed by Train.

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 22.—While gathering coal alongside the tracks William Robinson, twelve years old, was ground to pieces by a Monon train.

Amusements

The Gem will show a two-reel Victor drama "The Passerby" for tonight. It is a fine dramatic production and J. Warren Kerrigan is featured. The Passerby enters the home where trouble is rife. He teaches charity, rights financial wrongs, shows a girl where her heart lies, fights a duel with an impulsive youth and departs. It is the second picture to be shown here featuring this star. The other film is a Nestor comedy entitled "His Wife's Burglar." Tomorrow night a two-reel 101 Bison feature, "The Madonna of the Slums," will be shown.

The Princess will show "Our New Minister" in three parts for tonight. Joseph Conyers, who for many years has pleased the American public in his inimitable characterization of "Darius Sturtle" in Denman Thompson great rural drama, "Our New Minister," appears again in this role in Kalem's great presentation, with Alice Joyce and Tom Moore.

The story, with which most of us are familiar, is an extremely interesting one, and which gives each member of the company an excellent opportunity to show his or her artistic ability. This motion picture revival of an immensely popular play is bound to please everyone. Tomorrow "Phantom's" a two reel story of the stage.

The Portola offers two big features tonight. They are both Helen Garner pictures. The first is "The Wife of Cain" and the other is "A Sister to Carmen." Both are in four reels and are said to be great productions. Helen Gardner is seen in both and will be remembered for her work in "A Princess of Bagdad" seen here a few weeks ago. The pictures are elegantly mounted and the stage settings are very beautiful in both productions. The first show will start at six-thirty o'clock.

TORTURED BY STOMACH ILLS, HE FINDS MAYR REMEDY IN TIME

Frankfort Man Ends His Troubles With First Dose of Treatment.

Walter Spray of 1011 South Second street, Frankfort, Ind., for a long time suffered from disorders of the stomach which caused him great pain.

After long and tedious efforts to find relief he at last tried Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. The results, pleasing and beneficial, came right away. In telling of his experience he wrote:

"I took your treatment and will truly say that it did me more good than all the doctors did for me for months. Before I took your medicine I suffered a great deal, but since I took the first dose I have not had a bad spell. I feel that it is even more than you claim."

Letters like that come from all parts of the country. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is known everywhere because of its true merit. The first dose proves—no long treatment.

Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of mucoid accretions and removes poisonous matter. It brings swift relief to sufferers from ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels. Many declare it has saved them from dangerous operations and many are sure it has saved their lives.

Because of the remarkable success of this remedy there are many imitators, so be cautious. Be sure it's MAYR'S. Go to Frank E. Wolcott's drug store and ask about the wonderful results it has been accomplishing—or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Chemist, 154-156 Whiting Street, Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have restored. And druggist can tell you its wonderful effects.

The Deserted Village.

When Goldsmith wrote his celebrated poem, "The Deserted Village," the people of the country laughed at him and said he was pessimistic; that the country was not in the condition described by this poem. People of today are equally incredulous and it is equally as difficult to convince people that the country town is losing out in the struggle for existence or in its competition with larger cities.

In his lecture "The Deserted Village," O. A. Charles, who, on account of his efforts to build up the country towns has been called "the apostle of the country town," shows exactly the condition of the smaller cities and country towns today. He does not merely make statements but he verifies these statements by showing proof.

Mr. Charles will open the campaign for a Chamber of Commerce here next Wednesday night with a big meeting, when he will give his lecture on "The Deserted Village."

We bespeak for him a large audience, because he says things that are worth while. He speaks not only from the courage of his convictions, but also from an experience that has taught him just what the small county towns need to give them life.

Since it has been seen fit to bring Mr. Charles here to conduct the campaign, it is imperative that every person in Rushville do all within his or her power to help in the movement that is bound to bring good to Rushville. We all need a Chamber of Commerce, a clearing house of Rushville, as Mr. Charles so tersely puts it, and it behooves us to get busy.

No longer can we say of our town or of our village:

"Sweet Auburn! loveliest village of the plain,

Where health and plenty cheer the laboring swain.

When smiling spring its earliest visit paid,

And parting summer's leaving blooms delayed."

Instead of this joyful songs, we must with Goldsmith turn our song of joy into the lament.

"Sunk are thy bowers in shapeless ruin all,

And the long grass o'er tops the mouldering wall;

And trembling, shrinking from the spoiler's hand,

Far, far away thy children leave the land."

The St. Louis Illinois Sun says of Mr. Charles lecture: "Every one present was greatly enthused after having heard O. A. Charles lecture here last night. This genius on saving the country towns gets his audience going by the first words he utters and he keeps them interested to the end. His vision of the country town of the future and his methods of preserving it are unique and different.

GIERLUF JENSEN IS SAID TO BE DOOMED

Shelbyville Man Who Made Sacrifices to Run on Progressive Ticket Will Be Cast Off.

RICHMOND GROOMING A MAN

That the Progressive leaders of the Sixth district are preparing to "knife" Gierluf Jensen of Shelbyville, the Progressive candidate for congress in 1912, is contained in a newspaper report from Richmond. Prof. Elbert Russell of Richmond, a member of the Earlham college faculty, is being advanced as the logical candidate for the nomination.

Jensen made the race two years ago in the face of defeat. He was selected for the place after the first nominee had resigned and another man had refused to accept. He made a hard campaign when he had absolutely no chance to win. Of course, he was considered the logical candidate for the nomination this time, but the Richmond Progressives, who control the district, can nominate any candidate they choose.

and without a doubt this loss is the result of a failure to concentrate the efforts of the individuals of these communities for the betterment of these communities. In other words, in the state of Indiana there were 639 towns that lost population during the last decade. It is a fact that none of these towns, with the exception of two, have any civic or industrial organization of any kind to work for and solve the problems of these towns.

On the other hand in the State of Indiana there are seventy-five towns that have a fairly well organized Commercial Club, Chamber of Commerce or civic organization and it is a fact that none of these towns lost in population, notwithstanding the fact that some of these towns which actually gained in population and which did not have a good civic organization were within a few miles of some of the towns which did lose in population and which did not have an organization of any kind. It is also a fact that the business, environment and opportunities of the two towns were almost identical.

Doesn't this prove beyond a doubt that the hope of the country town in the future lies in the concentration of effort on the part of the individuals banded together in an organization, whose sole purpose is to help build the town and community in all ways and along all lines?

INDIANA YOUTHS GET RARE TREAT

CALLS ON PRESIDENT TODAY

Nine Boys Are Also Received at Department of Agriculture—Round of Pleasure.

Washington, Jan. 22.—The office of farm management of the department of agriculture was host to the nine Indiana Corn club champions. It had arranged an interesting program of entertainment for the boys, whose ages range from eleven to nineteen years.

In company with Z. M. Smith, state superintendent of agricultural education of Indiana, representing Purdue university, and H. L. Rogers, superintendent of school of Pulaski county, who came to Washington with the prize corn growers, the boys visited the Washington monument, the bureau of printing and engraving and the Smithsonian institution. Later the corn growers called at the White House to meet the president, and then they appeared before the house committee on agriculture, of which Representative Moss of the Terre Haute district is a member, to explain the methods they used in obtaining record-breaking crops.

The boys then visited the department of agriculture, where they were received by Assistant Secretary Galloway, Secretary Houston being absent from Washington. Dr. Galloway represented him in welcoming the Indiana boys and giving them diplomas. Those in the party are: Clarence G. Birk of St. Joseph county, Everett Schlenker of Delaware county, Basil Stultz of Marion county, Earl Sowder of Lawrence county, Francis J. Hammond of Spencer county, Indiana Corn Club champion for 1913, Raymond Mulvey of Tippecanoe county, William Thompson of Pulaski county, Delbert Lovett of Marion county, and Gordon Willis Reap of Bartholomew county, county winners. Earl Sowder of Lawrence county is grand champion of the state.

THE INDIANA MINE INDUSTRY

Mild Weather Has Led to an Unprecedented Dullness.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 22.—The unprecedented dull season with the Indiana mining industry, caused by mild weather, continues. Not since Dec. 1 has there been demand for enough coal to keep the 21,000 men at work more than half time. "I never saw the mines as dull as they are now for this time of the year," said William Houston, president of the Indiana United Mine Workers. "Men throughout the district are working an average of half time. I think, however, that work will pick up. There is a reported increase in the iron industry at Gary, and with increase in the iron industry the mining industry will grow better."

Indiana operators say prices continue down almost to summer figures. This is true of industrial steam coal as well as of domestic used for heating purposes and supposedly more affected by the moderate weather of the winter season. At the present rate of output the Indiana production for the state's fiscal year ending Sept. 30 next, is likely to fall several million tons below the production for the last fiscal year, 17,246,000 tons, bituminous and block.

One of the anomalous features in the situation is that neither operator nor miner apparently is concerned about a suspension of work before the new wage contract comes in effect. The men, it is said, do not expect to ask for an advance and the operators do not expect to ask for a reduction.

Soldiers' Supplies Burned.
Marion, Ind., Jan. 22.—The burning of the quartermaster's and commissary department at the Marion soldiers' home caused a loss of $100,000, half of which consisted of supplies of flour, meat and clothing. No one was injured. The commissary department will be conducted as usual, other buildings being utilized.

Will Take It to Higher Court.
Marion, Ind., Jan. 22.—Mrs. Lillian Meek, arrested at her home in this city on charge of conducting a "blind tiger," was found guilty by a jury in the city court, fined $50 and sentenced to jail for thirty days. She has appealed the case to the circuit court.

Brooded Over Father's Death.
Noblesville, Ind., Jan. 22.—John Revis, aged forty, a farmer, committed suicide by shooting himself. Constant brooding over the death of his father two months ago is believed to have caused the suicide. A widow and two sons survive.

CITY DEATH RATE IS HIGH

Comparison With Other Cities in Indiana Shows it Far Above Average For December.

ONE REPORT MORE FAVORABLE

Rush County Jails Only 59 Prisoners in 1913 While Neighboring County Jails Were Full.

Two reports from state boards form the opposite conclusions concerning Rushville and Rush county. One shows that the city and county was extremely moral in so far as arrests are concerned, but on the other hand, it seems that the people of this commonwealth are dying off entirely too fast.

The report of the state board of health shows that the death rate in the city of Rushville during December was far in excess of the average. This appears all the higher when it is considered that the death rate in the city for the year 1913 was decreased materially.

Winchester, Columbia City, Jaxsonville, Crown Point and Bicknell, in common with Rushville, reported a death rate in excess of twenty-one per cent, which is high, because the state death rate for the month was only 11.3. This shows a decrease because the state death rate in December, 1912 was 13.4. The rate was highest through central Indiana.

The total number of deaths last month was 2,653, while in November it was 2,731 and in December, 1912, it was 2,115. Perhaps the most startling feature of the death return for the month was the difference between the city death rate and that in the rural communities of the state. In the cities the rate was 13.5, and in the country it was only 9.5, the lowest mark for many months.

The total number of births in the state far exceeded the number of deaths, a total of 4,600 being recorded, at a state birth rate of 19.5. White male babies born numbered 2,337; white females, 2,212; colored males, 27; colored females, 24.

But the report of the state board of charities offers something of which Rushville and Rush county may well be proud. While surrounding counties were busy emptying and refilling their county jails, Rush spent very little money for taking care of prisoners because there were only 59 during the whole year.

A comparison with other counties in this part of Indiana show the following prisoners for the year: Bartholomew, 184; Decatur, 556; Fayette, 245; Hancock, 120; Henry, 441; Shelby, 199; Wayne, 265.

GIRL GIVES WAY TO HER EMOTIONS

Julia Flake Weeps Hysterically When She Learns Step-Father Repudiated His Confession.

ATTORNEY IS NOT WORRIED

(By United Press.) Galesburg, Ill., Jan. 22.—Her pent-up emotions giving away for the first time since she confessed her role in her mother's murder, Julia Flake wept hysterically today when she learned her step-father, Robert Higgins, repudiated his statement that he killed his wife to hide his illicit love for the girl.

In her reply she denounced him as a liar and a tempter who had betrayed and then deceived her. "I love him even now," she said. "He likes me. I can't help it."

The girl was again placed under the custody of a probation officer when it was learned she was allowed to roam the streets yesterday. State's Attorney Wilson said he was not at all disturbed by Higgins' repudiation of his confession.

AVERY LOST SUIT AGAINST BIG FOUR

Jury Was Out Only Fourteen Minutes and Returned Verdict For Defendant—Demanded $1,000.

AUTOMOBILE WAS DESTROYED

After deliberating for fourteen minutes, the jury in the case of William Avery, a prominent contractor, vs. the C. C. & St. L. railway company, an action for the recovery of damages in the sum of $1,000 growing out of the destruction of the plaintiff's automobile at a crossing north of Milroy in September, 1913, by a train operated by the defendant's agents, returned a verdict for the defendant, the Court's judgment on the verdict being that the plaintiff take nothing as a result of the proceedings and that the defendant recover costs, says the Greensburg Review.

The period during which the jury-men were closeted in an effort to arrive at a verdict this morning is one of the shortest on record in the judicial annals of this county.

AMERICAN SAVES LIFE OF HUERTA CABINET MEMBER

George Estanol, Secretly Sentenced to Death, is Smuggled Out of Mexico Today.

(By United Press.)

Mexico City, Jan. 22.—Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American D' Charge of Affairs in Mexico, today saved the life of George Estanol, once a member of General Huerta's cabinet who was secretly sentenced to death for sedition.

Obtaining a private car before daylight, the American charge managed to smuggle Estanol aboard it. The Mexican statesman, who is very wealthy, was taken to Vera Cruz, where he expected to take a ship for New York. Weeping hysterically, he threw his arms about the American's neck and said he owed him his life.

THOUGHTS OF GOD ARE DIFFERENT

Rev. A. W. Jamieson Says it Makes No Difference What You May of Huerta.

NOT SO IN CASE OF CHRIST

Peoples' Thought of Him Mould and Influence Their Whole Life, He Says.

"It makes no difference what we think of some people," declared the Rev. A. W. Jamieson at the U. P. revival last night while speaking from the text, "What Think Ye of Christ?" Matt. 22:42.

"We want to be honest in our convictions and correct in our judgment of all people of the present or past. But who cares what you think of Huerta, the man of Mexico? He doesn't care and your thoughts of him have no effect upon your personal life.

"Not so your thoughts concerning Jesus Christ.

He cares; your friends care; your thoughts of him mould and influence your whole life. May God guide in developing right thoughts of Christ. What do you think of him as a person? You recognize his perfect humanity. He was born, became a carpenter of Nazareth, lived for 33 years, died by crucifixion, under Pontius Pilate. He was a real human, historic character.

"Do you recognize him as a Divine person? The Gospel according to John was written to show that Jesus of Nazareth was God in the flesh. Many witnesses are presented who testify that This was the Son of God. In thinking of Christ and his work, we want ever to remember that he is Divine.

"What think you of Christ as a moral example and teacher? You admire the moral; you despise the immoral. What is your standard? The one recognized faultless standard is the moral law, as set forth in the 10 commandments. Jesus Christ kept those commandments perfectly. He is the one man of whom that could be said. His sermon on the Mount calls for obedience in spirit, as well as in outer conduct.

What think you of Christ as the organizer of spiritual forces? He came to earth with a large program. Not to evangelize the Jews; not to Christianize Palestine; but to win the world to his standard. He planned the whole work. He organized his church. He uses no force. He appeals to the reason, the conscience, the will. Keener mind never was enthroned in human body than the mind of Jesus. Victory has followed victory. Millions today are his loyal subjects. They are the best of earth. Promises are being fulfilled, will be fulfilled, until the kingdoms of this earth shall have become the kingdom of our Lord and Christ.

"What do you think of Christ as the object of personal faith? Is he worthy to receive your confidence, and loyal service? What does he give that you need. A new nature; pardon for sin; strength to resist temptation; all that makes up Christian character, and the reward, eternal life. Turn the question about and ask. What does Christ think of you? Does he know you as a grateful, loving, loyal child of his, or does he think of you as one who will not come to him that you might have life?"

FAMOUS SLOVENS

They Had a Fine Contempt For Personal Appearance.

GENIUS IN UNCOUTH ATTIRE.

Turner, the Artist, Dressed Like an Old Time Cab Driver—Dr. Johnson Was Grotesque, and "Old Fitz" Outraged All the Sartorial Conventions.

It is surprising how outrageously careless of their personal appearance many famous men have been. Genius may or may not be allied to madness, but it has certainly very often been linked with an utter disregard for clothes and cleanly habits.

It is said of Turner, the great landscape painter, that his hands were "the smallest and dirtiest hands on record." Perhaps that is an exaggeration, but he was certainly very slovenly in his dress. He wore a black swallowtail dress coat, very much in need of a clothesbrush vigorously used, and in the warmest as well as in the coldest weather he wore round his throat a sort of wrap or muffler, which he would unloose, letting the ends dangle down in front and dip into the colors of his palette. He always worked either with his old hat on his head or with this same large muffler over his head. His appearance was more like that of an old time coachman than of a famous Royal Academician, for he was short and stout, with a red and blotchy face.

Dr. Johnson's slovenliness has at most passed into a proverb. There are many contemporary accounts of his turning out of his house in Bolt court with his wig back to front and his stockings down. When Boswell visited him at 1 Inner Temple lane he records: "His brown suit of clothes looked very rusty; he had on a little, old shriveled, unpowdered wig, which was too small for his head; his shirt neck and the knees of his breeches were loose, his black worsted stockings ill drawn up, and by way of slippers he had on a pair of unbuckled shoes." When it is added that this great man was constantly twitching, grunting, shaking his head, puffing his cheeks and blinking his eyes, it must be admitted that his appearance was not only uncouth but grotesque.

Thomas Carlyle, coming of a peasant race, never conformed to society garb. He was always the inspired peasant. He would sometimes go out in his old dressing gown, over which he buttoned a big coat, gray with age. When he was left alone in the house he delighted in swilling his flagstones with pails of water, and many a distinguished friend found him thus engaged with a kind of smock on and his bushy hair all tousled. He went about all the summer among the highest aristocracy in a frieze jacket which was part of an old dressing gown. All the cabmen and bus drivers Chelsea way know him. One said, "He may wear a queer 'at, but what would yer give for the 'eadpiece inside of it?"

It would not be seemly to describe Tennyson as slovenly in any real sense. He was a singularly noble looking man, but he did not care a jot what he wore. His old slouch hat had seen unnumbered years and flapped about at all angles, and the Inverness cape which he invariably wore was about as old as his hat. People who met him without knowing his immense distinction would have regarded him as a rather quaint character, and a tailor's cutter would not have assessed him at half a dollar, all told.

This is a description of the daily appearance of Edward Fitzgerald, the immortal translator of "The Rubaiyat" of Omar Khayyam: "Straggling gray hair and slovenly in dress, wearing an ancient, battered, black banded, shiny edged tall hat, round which he would in wintry weather tie a handkerchief to keep it in place; his clothes of baggy blue cloth, as though he were a seafarer; his trousers short and his shoes low, exhibiting a length of white or gray stockings. With an unstarched shirt front, high, crumpled, standup collar, a big black silk tie in a careless bow; in cold weather trailing a green and black and gray plaid shawl, in hot weather even walking barefoot with his boots slung to a stick." Surely "Old Fitz," as Tennyson called him, took the cake for slovenliness of all the immortals!—Pearson's Weekly.

Something New in Rushville From
"The Land of the Long Leaf Pine"

An "Outside" Treatment That Relieves Croup and Cold Troubles Quicker Than Internal Medicines—Applied Externally, It is Inhaled as a Vapor and Absorbed Through the Skin.

Local Druggists Are Selling it in 25c. 50c. and $1.00 Jars on 30 Days' Trial—Money Back if Not Delighted.

Mighty few of us are able to follow the example of wealthy easterners who, when they have a touch of lung trouble or a chronic cold, take a trip to the pine barrens of North Carolina, "the land of the long leaf pine."

There it is always summer and cold troubles are soon banished by the warm dry air, spicy with the odor of uncultured leagues of pine forests.

But the Rushville druggists have recently received a treatment that is almost as good. It is the invention of a North Carolina druggist, who discovered a process of combining, in the form of a salve, the Carolina pine tar with Menthol from Japan, Camphor from the Isle of Formosa, the oils of Cubebs, Juniper, Thymol and Eucalyptol. By this process, the heat of the body releases these ingredients in the form of vapors

Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Women from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from all sections of this great country, no city so large, no village so small but that some woman has written words of thanks for health restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No woman who is suffering from the ills peculiar to her sex should rest until she has given this famous remedy a trial. Is it not reasonable to believe that what it did for these women it will do for any sick woman?

Wonderful Case of Mrs. Stephenson, on the Pacific Coast.

INDEPENDENCE, OREGON.—"I was sick with what four doctors called Nervous Prostration, was treated by them for several years, would be better for a while then back in the old way again. I had palpitation of the heart very bad, fainting spells, and was so nervous that a spoon dropping to the floor would nearly kill me, could not lift the lightest weight without making me sick; in fact was about as sick and miserable as a person could be. I saw your medicines advertised and thought I would try them, and am so thankful I did for they helped me at once. I took about a dozen bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and also used the Sanative Wash. Since then I have used them whenever I felt sick. Your remedies are the only doctor I employ. You are at liberty to publish this letter."—Mrs. W. STEPHENSON, Independence, Oregon.

A Grateful Atlantic Coast Woman.

HODGDON, ME.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and was fat and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Maine.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health. Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.
